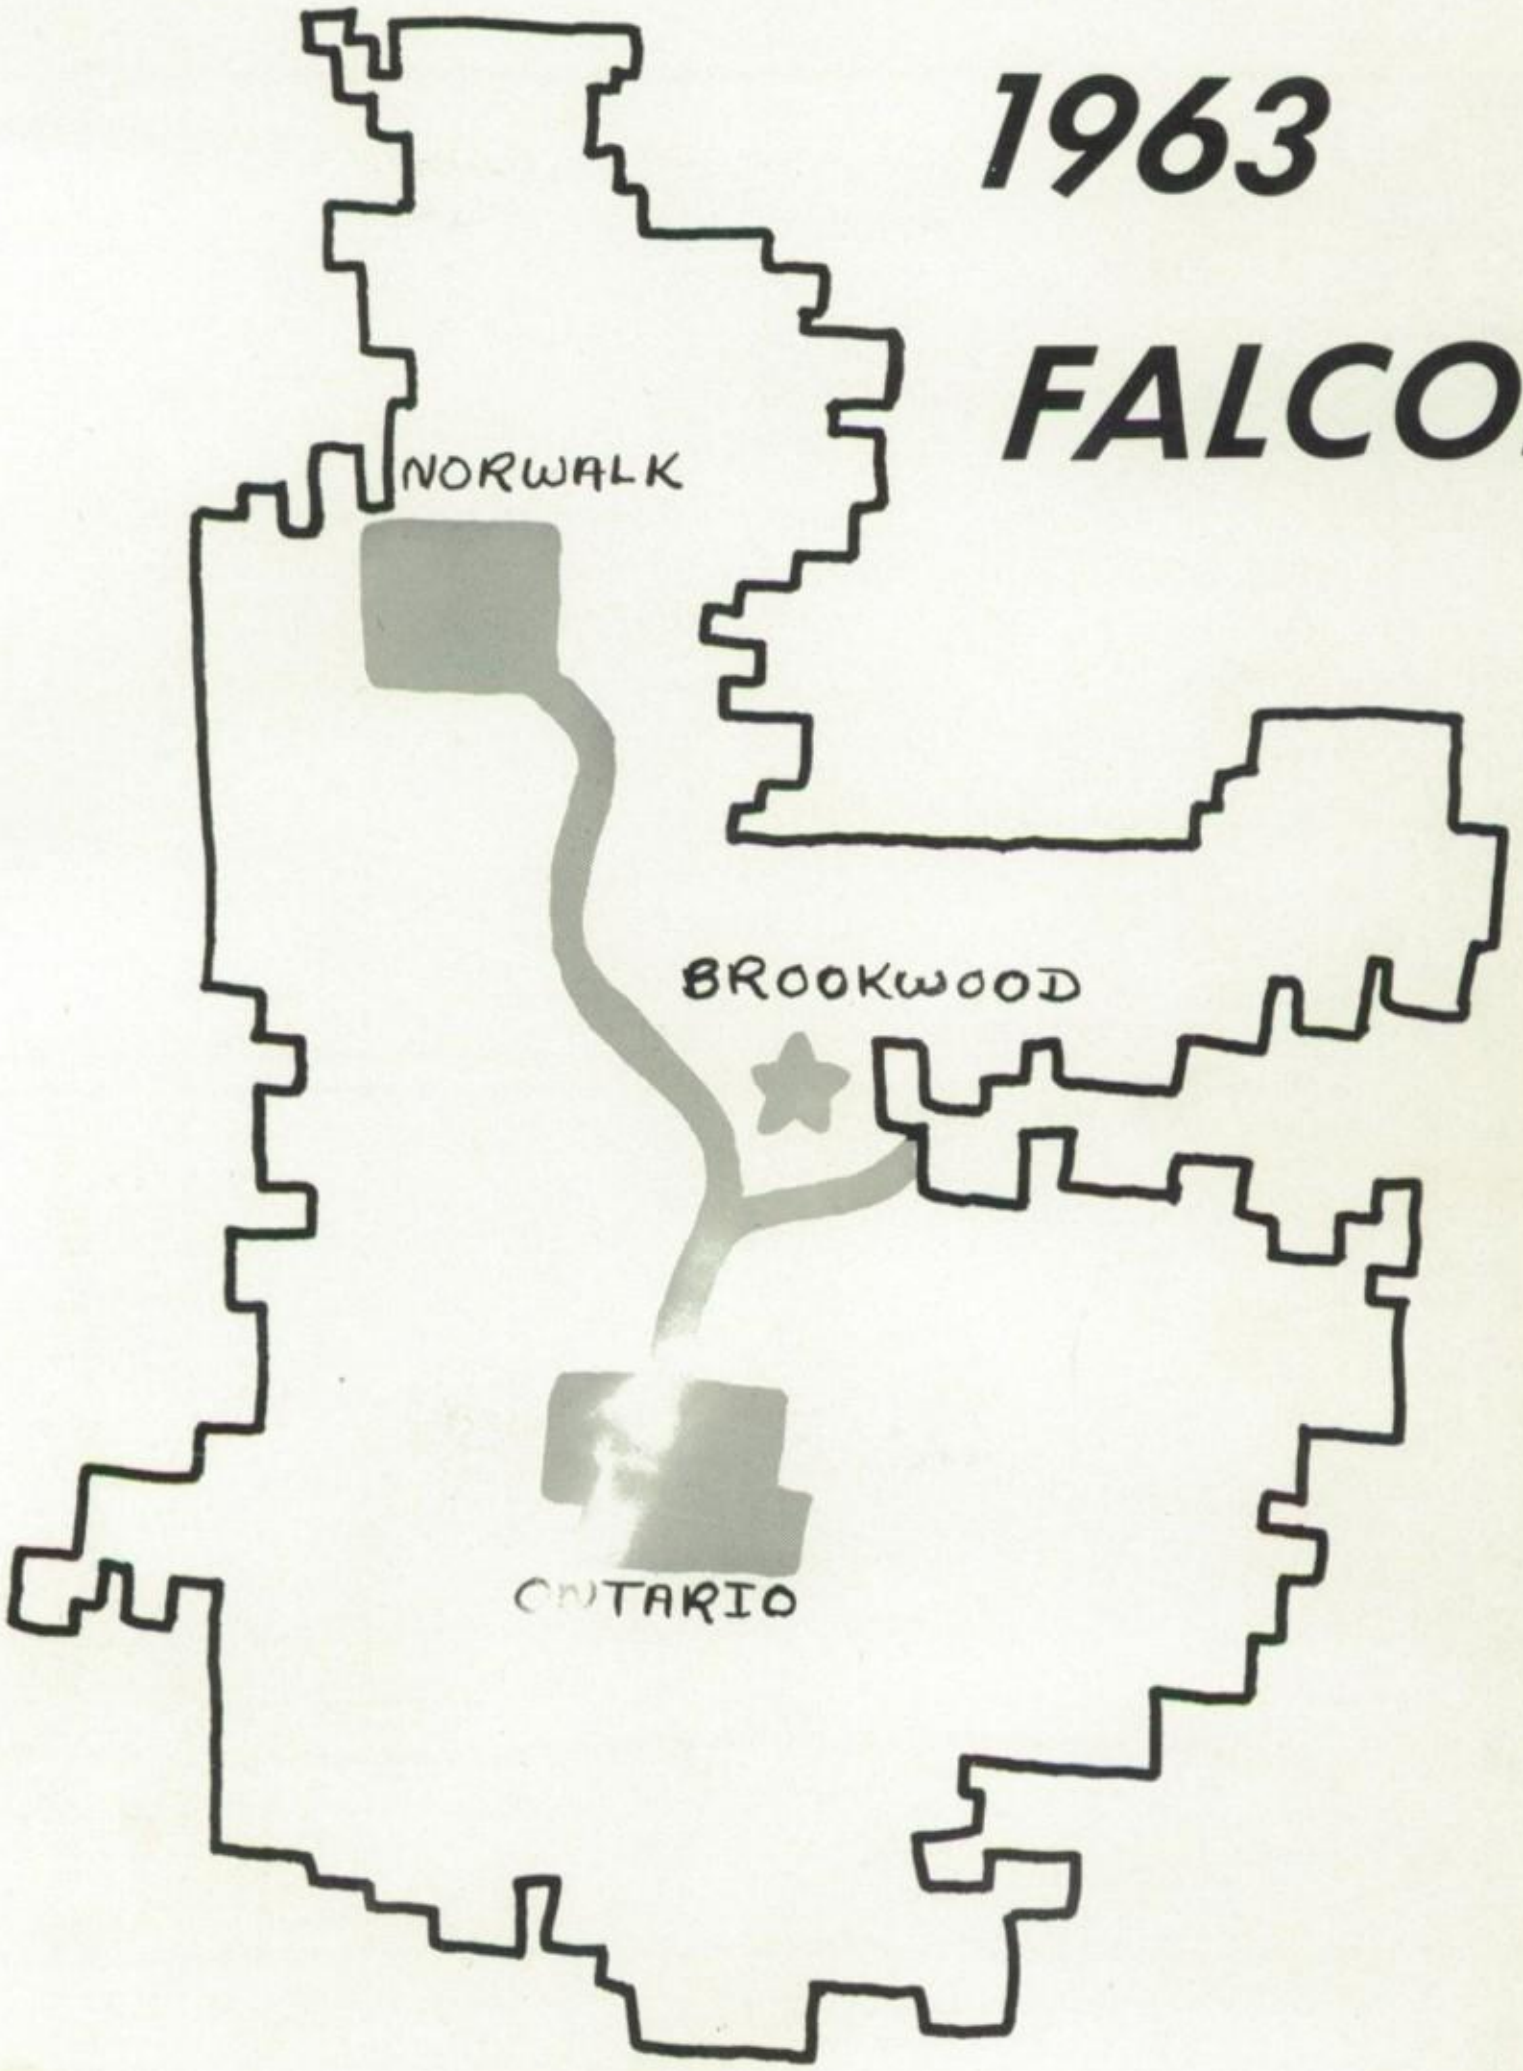
THE 1963 FALCON



BROOKWOOD HIGH SCHOOL
NORWALK-ONTARIO, WISCONSIN

Brookwood High
1963

Dear Momo and Dado,

Because you were patient with our childish behavior and inexperience,

Because you gave us encouragement when we were so immature and thoughtless,

Because you contributed so much of your time that we might participate in extra-curricular activities,

Because you sacrificed to give us the best education possible, we dedicate to you, our parents, this 1963 Falcon.

Gratefully yours,

"Terror in the Suburbs"

Dim lighting heightened the weirdness as the mood of the suspense-comedy was established in the first scene when six silent strangers carefully carried a black draped coffin through the living room of an old mansion and into an adjoining bedroom.

A permeating atmosphere of distrust, dread, fright, consternation and panic was created by the presence of the body, by the isolation of the cavernous roominghouse on the outskirts of Washington, D. C., and by the people--vicious, mysterious, innocent, conniving, resourceful--whose corresponding motives and actions moved the plot forward to the end.

However, all was not as it seemed. Not until the end were the true personalities of the manager of the roominghouse and her supposedly insane sister revealed.

The play, a web of government and personal intrigue, was presented in the Brookwood gym, on March 10, 1962, under the direction of Mrs. Kortbein.

Shy Guy

"Shy Guy" or Fred Hastings has a marvelous talent for trouble and football. He has a secret source of money which his parents and friend Larry would dearly love to discover. He fears his parents' anger almost as much as the ridicule of his schoolmates, but the truth that he has been posing for cosmetic ads is becoming more difficult to conceal. When in desperation, he tells Larry the truth, his troubles really begin. Larry tells the family that Fred has been teaching the wealthy, but eccentric Miss Whipple the art of football. Miss Corwin, model agency head, and the lovely model, Gloria, come to take more poses at the home town scene.

As Larry endeavors to get Fred OUT of trouble, They both get in deeper. They fake an accident so Fred can't pose, replace him with a double-a Frenchman, but to no avail. Then Miss Whipple arrives, and in order to frighten her away, Fred acts mentally incompetent. Gloria discovers the truth, Miss Whipple takes sleeping pills accidentally, and when other complications follow, things look hopeless. All is straightened out when Miss Whipple proves to be an understanding, sympathetic, person. Her unorthodox football playing proves that Fred DID teach her the game of football.

SEATED: Joyce Vieregge, Barbara McCracken, Carolyn Hendersin, Rita Degenhardt, and Dawn McCoy. STANDING: Robert Hubbard, Mr. Gaarder, advisor, Ronald Graewin, and Eugene Kortbein.

The officers of the Student Council are as follows: President, Joyce Vieregge; Vice-President, Eugene Kortbein; Secretary, Carolyn Hendersin; Treasurer, Robert Hubbard. Mr. Gaarder is the faculty advisor.

The Council has had many projects this year. The organization placed a suggestion box in the hall for ideas from the students about improving the school. Each week was given a title to emphasize the school relations and conduct. A portable coat rack was purchased and coats were checked at basketball games. The sick room was cleaned and equipped with a new cot, mattress, and blankets. The Council planned a Christmas program with Santa Claus, a Christmas tree and all the trimmings. In an effort to act as a go-between, the Student Council held discussions with the students and faculty about school relations.

The football team seemed to show new desire and new spirit and started the season right by beating Sparta's "B" team 7 to 0. The offensive stars were Eugene Kortbein and Owen Schumacher. The second game with Royall kept the winning streak going with Brookwood's score, 12 and Royall's, 6. In the third game, Brookwood met their first defeat of the season--Westby, 52 and Brookwood, 0. The fourth game found the team back on the winning track, beating Wonewoc 19 to 6. The fifth game with Cashton found Brookwood unable to move on offense and Cashton won 21 to 0. A very good Hillsboro team defeated Brookwood 34 to 14 in the Homecoming game. On October 26, Brookwood traveled to Desoto. Both teams seemed fairly evenly matched, not only in record but in size. The game ended in a tie 14 to 14. At the last home game, Brookwood lost to New Lisbon, 39 to 0. In the final game of the season, Brookwood bounced back to the winning side and beat Wilton, 26 to 7.

The outstanding offensive men for the season of 1962 were Eugene Kortbein, who gained over 400 yards, Owen Schumacher and Robert Wruck in the backfield, and in the line, John Creviston, Patrick Neumann, Malend Raiten, and Jerry Schroeder.

Another very important phase of the game defense found some outstanding linemen and backs, both--John Creviston, Patrick Neumann, Mike Neumann, Malend Raiten, Jerry Schroeder, Eugene Kortbein, and Robert Wruck.
